DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9, 40-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Snell USPN 5,456,691. Snell teaches a medical device 10 that may be used as a cardiac stimulating device, a cochlear implant, a drug pump or a neurostimulator which may be implantable. (column 7 lines 35+). Telemetry device is used to communicate with the implantable device to select various modules or sets of data within the modules and to communicate the program to a stored location for execution (Column 4 lines 38-64; column 5 Lines 8-51, column 6 line 62-column 7 line 28). Pulse width, amplitude and variable bursts (i.e. timing algorithm, or pulse frequency) are amongst the many conventional parameter settings envisioned.. (see column 8 lines 1-12) .

Claims 1-2, 4-5, 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ford et al.

Ford et al. teaches the storage of a library of drug pump settings that may be chosen from to create new programs including the timing of delivery.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3762

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 45, 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Snell USPN 5,456,691.

The examiner takes judicial notice that polarity selection as well as direction are notoriously old and well known to the cardiac stimulation art and would have been obvious parameter setting selections.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mark W Bockelman whose telephone number is (703)-308-2112. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Thursday 10-8:30.
